

Hillary Clinton Turns Over Private Computer Server to Justice Department

Washington, August 12 (RHC)-- U.S. presidential hopeful Hillary Clinton is turning over her private computer server she used while serving as secretary of state to the U.S. Justice Department. She is also reportedly turning over a thumb drive that contains copies of her e-mail.

The move is the latest in a series of attempts by Hillary Clinton to end the controversy surrounding whether she mishandled any classified material with her private e-mail setup.
