

United Nations Adopts Palestinian Flag Hoisting Resolution

United Nations, September 11 (RHC)-- The United Nations has approved a resolution calling for the hoisting of the Palestinian flag at the world body's headquarters in New York. On Thursday, the UN General Assembly decided that the flags of the non-member observer states of Palestine and the Holy See "shall be raised at UN Headquarters and United Nations Offices following the flags of the member states."

As many as 119 countries voted in favor of the resolution, eight voted against, and 45 abstained. The draft resolution of the Palestinian proposal was submitted to the General Assembly on August 27th.

The resolution requested UN Secretary General Ban Ki-moon to take "the measures necessary" for the implementation of the decision. The UN has 20 days to carry out the decision. Based on the Thursday decision, delegations of the two nations can participate in the UN sessions.

Before the voting session, Palestinian Ambassador to the UN Riyad Mansour touched upon the significance of the resolution, saying although symbolic, the measure gives "our people some hope that the international community is still supporting the independence of the state of Palestine."

The United States and Israel had expressed their opposition to the measure, with U.S. State Department Deputy Spokesman Mark Toner describing it as “counterproductive” and Israel’s envoy to the UN, Ron Prosor, dismissing it as “a blatant attempt to hijack the UN.”
