

Video Shows Israelis Leave Palestinian Woman to Bleed to Death

Ramallah, September 23 (RHC)-- Palestinian media have released a shocking video showing a young Palestinian woman, shot by Israeli forces, being left to bleed for a long time before being transferred to a hospital, where she reportedly died of her wounds.

The video published by PalMedia on Tuesday shows Hadil Salah Hashlamoun, an 18-year-old student, being left to bleed on a sidewalk in the occupied West Bank city of Hebron after she was fatally shot by Israeli forces earlier in the morning.

The video shows Israeli forces and settlers standing around, smiling and laughing in some cases, leaving the young woman to bleed to death.

Palestine's Wattan TV said the woman was left unattended for more than 30 minutes. The forces then recklessly drag Hashlamoun on the ground. Her burqa is seen coming off as she is being pulled out of the camera shot.

Reports said she later died of her injuries in Shaare Zedek Hospital in the occupied al-Quds Jerusalem. Members of the Hashlamoun family confirmed the death of the woman, with her father, Salaheddin, saying she was "martyred."

Reports said the death of the woman sparked clashes between Palestinian youth and Israeli soldiers in the area with a resident saying that the number of Israeli soldiers has significantly increased across the city following the shooting.
