

110 Daesh Takfiri Militants Killed in Iraqi Army Operations

Baghdad, September 25 (RHC)-- Iraqi forces have killed 110 Daesh terrorists in separate operations against the Takfiri group across the country. A security source, requesting not to be named, told Arabic-language al-Sumaria satellite television network that a total of 20 Daesh extremists were killed when Iraqi aircraft carried out precision strikes against terrorist hideouts in the al-Malahama and Tel Mashihida districts, which lie east of Anbar's provincial capital city of Ramadi, on Thursday.

The source noted that 20 Daesh Takfiris also sustained injuries and 11 vehicles belonging to the militants were destroyed in the aerial attacks.

Separately, Iraqi security forces killed 10 Daesh members and destroyed an excavator rigged with explosives in the Albu Issa and Jarayeshi districts of Anbar Province.

Meanwhile, 39 Daesh terrorists, including several militant commanders, were killed when Iraqi security personnel carried out an operation in Tal Albu Jarad village. Four other Daesh Takfiris were killed and two explosives-laden cars destroyed during an offensive in the town of al-Karmah, situated about 48 kilometers (30 miles) west of the capital, Baghdad.

Also on Thursday, the self-proclaimed Daesh finance minister, identified by his nom de guerre, Sulaiman Saed Sheikhdar, was killed along with 36 other extremists as Iraqi forces fired an unspecified number of artillery rounds at terrorist hideouts across Anbar.
