

UN Human Rights Council Abandons Plans for Probe into Possible War Crimes in Yemen

Geneva, October 3 (RHC)-- The United Nations Human Rights Council has abandoned a plan to launch an investigation into human rights violations and possible war crimes in the ongoing conflict in Yemen following aggressive lobbying from Saudi diplomats.

A UN Human Rights Commission report has blamed the U.S.-backed, Saudi-led airstrikes for most of the civilian casualties in Yemen. This comes only days after U.S.-backed, Saudi-led airstrikes killed at least 130 civilians after mistakenly bombing a wedding party Monday.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/en/noticias/internacionales/71381-un-human-rights-council-abandons-plans-for-probe-into-possible-war-crimes-in-yemen>

Radio Habana Cuba