

U.S. Authorities Propose to Change Scheme of Illegal Broadcasts into Cuba

Washington, February 10 (RHC)-- U.S. authorities have announced that the operations of the Office of Cuban Broadcasts (OCB) could end up in private hands.

The OCB administers Washington's illegal radio and TV broadcasts against Cuba, the ill-named Radio and TV Martí, whose explicit aim is to promote subversive actions and regime change.

Experts agree that although now it is a proposals, the measure would mean a drastic shift in the policies maintained by the U.S. entity, using federal funds, for more than 30 years.

Media outlets in South Florida reported the announcement by the Broadcast Board, financed by the U.S. government, and supervising several information services, including the Office of Cuban Broadcasts and the Voice of America.
