

Cuban and U.S. Education Experts Address Common Issues

Havana, February 25 (RHC-ACN)-- Education experts from Cuba and the United States are meeting in the eastern city of Camaguey to address common challenges and concerns, in a further effort to strengthen exchange and cooperation in the sector.

The academic event, which runs through Saturday, is organized by the Association of Cuban Educators, the University of Camaguey and local education authorities.

Over 30 professionals are discussing issues related to the quality of education, access to education, and the development of a student mindset in tune with current reality.
