

Havana Opens Trade Fair to World Business

Havana, Mar 30 (RHC) The development of tourism and national potentials for its expansion are on debate today at the 3rd Business Fair of Havana.

René Hernández Castellanos, vice minister for Economics and Planning, said the daily goals of this trade fair is to identify Cuba's capacities and potentials.

Therefore, he said, our experts will stress our import powers to secure certain supplies, because some times, our productions are able to meet our demands, and that is more feasible to finance.

On Thursday, the joint venture Suchel-Camacho will give the workshop New Productions in Perfumery and Cosmetics at this trade fair, running through April 11 in EXPOCUBA, and where 400 Cuban and foreign firms are represented.
