

U.S. Actor Danny Glover Renders Tribute to Che in Santa Clara

Santa Clara, January 5 (RHC)-- U.S. actor and political activist Danny Glover visited the central Cuban city of Santa Clara and paid tribute to Comandante Ernesto Che Guevara. Touring the museum and memorial dedicated to Che, Danny Glover told reporters he was greatly impressed with the life of the Heroic Guerrilla leader.

The well-known actor said that Che was the embodiment of internationalism and that he admired the his principles and ideals. Danny Glover placed a flower in the niche where the remains of Ernesto Che Guevara rest. He said that he would remember this moment in Santa Clara and his visit to Che's memorial for the rest of his life.

Accompanied by his wife, Elaine Cavalleiro, and by James Early, a renowned intellectual and activist, Danny Glover received a statue and special edition of a magazine dedicated to Ernesto Che Guevara.

Radio Habana Cuba