

Nationwide Protests Against Fuel Hike Continue in Mexico

Mexico City, January 25 (RHC)-- In Mexico, widespread protests against the government's decision to raise fuel prices by more than 20 percent continue to rock the country. Protesters have taken to the streets for coordinated demonstrations in Mexico City and in at least 12 Mexican states.

Protesters in Tijuana seized control of one of the busiest border crossings along the U.S. border, forcing Mexican authorities to abandon their posts.
