

U.S. Attorney General Under Fire for Refusing to Answer Questions During Senate Testimony

Washington, June 14 (RHC)-- U.S. Attorney General Jeff Sessions has denied colluding with Russia ahead of the 2016 election, during a highly anticipated testimony before the Senate Intelligence Committee on Tuesday.

Sessions spent much of Tuesday's hearing refusing to answer questions about President Donald Trump's firing of FBI Director James Comey and whether Trump had expressed concern to Sessions about the attorney general's decision to recuse himself from the Russia investigation.

During the testimony, California Senator Kamala Harris was interrupted by Sen. John McCain of Arizona as she questioned Sessions. Harris was also interrupted by McCain last week as she questioned Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein, leading many to charge him with sexism.
