

Swiss Scientific Vessel to Arrive in Cuba

Havana, July 20 (RHC/acn)-- The Swiss scientific vessel Race for Water Odyssey is expected to arrive on Thursday at Sierra Maestra Cruise Terminal in the Havana Bay.

The Cuban Ministry of Science, Technology and Environment said the official reception will take place on Friday, and that the boat will stay in Cuba until August, conducting a program of scientific exchange activities and visits.

The Swiss foundation Race for Water Odyssey is dedicated to water conservation and aims to identify, enhance and implement solutions providing value to plastic at the end of its useful life.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/nacionales/136100-swiss-scientific-vessel-to-arrive-in-cuba>

Radio Habana Cuba