Havana, October 15 (RHC)-- Cuban President Miguel Díaz-Canel reiterated his denunciations of the subversive plans of the United States government against our country.

On his account on the social network Twitter, the Cuban dignitary pointed out that the USAID, an agency of the State Department, recently gave a considerable amount of money to organizations that foment the so-called opposition in Cuba, such as the DNA, Digital News Association.

The action was denounced earlier this week by the U.S. director of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Havana, Carlos Fernández de Cossío.

For years, USAID has been trying to destabilize Cuban society with the aim of bringing about political changes in our country, even allocating funds for medical aid that Cuba brings to other peoples in solidarity.
