

Report says U.S. military secretly training Taiwanese forces for possible conflict with China

Image not found or type unknown

Image Credit: Taiwan Military News Agency

New York, October 8 (RHC)-- The Wall Street Journal has revealed a small team of U.S. special operations forces and marines have been secretly operating in Taiwan for at least a year to help train Taiwanese military forces for a possible conflict with China.

This comes as the CIA has set up a new mission center focused solely on China. CIA Director William Burns described China as “the most important geopolitical threat” facing the United States.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/273118-report-says-us-military-secretly-training-taiwanese-forces-for-possible-conflict-with-china>

Radio Habana Cuba