Havana, May 26 (RHC) -- Cuban Foreign Minister Bruno Rodríguez highlighted today that compatriots and supportive friends from various cities around the world demanded this day from the United States government the end of the economic, commercial and financial blockade imposed on the island.

On the social network, Cuba's top diplomat said that once again, solidarity prevails.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Cuba highlighted on its own social network the participation, this Sunday, of supportive friends and fellow nationals residing in the Bahamas, Bolivia, Finland, Belize and other nations of the world, in another active campaign of Bridges of Love against the blockade.
