

Thousands Protest Washington NFL Football Team at Game in Minnesota

Minneapolis, November 5 (RHC)-- In the United States, the movement to change the name of the NFL's Washington Redskins football team has followed the team on the road.

Around 5,000 people rallied outside a football stadium in Minnesota during the Redskins game against the Minnesota Vikings. It was the largest show of protest at a Washington road game in a long-running movement led by indigenous groups.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/38468-thousands-protest-washington-nfl-football-team-at-game-in-minnesota>

Radio Habana Cuba